

Allstein Press Release

July 1, 2020

Allstein would like to announce the retirement of Kurt Flathmann after 47 years in the packaging industry.; the last 8 years working for Allstein as head of sales in N. America.

Kurt started initially at Pamarco, then went to Bobst Champlain, then Fischer & Krecke, then Bobst when they bought F&K, and finally helping to start up Allstein.

Kurt is very well known and respected in our industry with friends all over, and has decided it's time to enjoy more time with his wife, get out to do more fly fishing, and travel more once some kind of normal returns.

We are very proud of Kurt and his contributions, and wish him all the best in his new life endeavors.

At the same time, we would like to announce that Tim Fox will succeed Kurt Flathmann as VP Sales Allstein Inc., effective today, July 1, 2020.

Tim comes in with over 30 years of experience in printing equipment and is well respected in the packaging business having worked at QuadTech, AVT, PCMC and MPS NA. His background includes general management, sales, and service with emphasis on flexographic presses and ancillary press equipment.
