Wikoff Graphics' David Bell Joins Panel at FTA's FORUM 2021

Wikoff Graphics has announced that its very own David Bell will be a panelist at FTA's FORUM 2021, taking place May 11-14 and May 18-21.

David's panel discussion, scheduled for May 11, will explore the various printing plate applications available today—including surface patterning, "In the Plate" solutions, varying durometer options and automation—as well as the overall benefits provided to the industry by continuing advances in plate making technology. He joins more than 20 technically oriented industry experts, together rounding out FORUM 2021's nine sessions and more than 20 presentations.

"I'm grateful to be part of this event showcasing some of the best solutions in the photopolymer plate industry," commented David Bell, Market Manager for Wikoff Graphics. "We have a lot of exciting things to offer and share with flexographers that can help them see real, tangible benefits in their pressrooms."

Themed "Prosper Through Efficiency," FORUM 2021 will show flexographers how to make every step of their workflows more efficient. Sessions and presentations will feature a mix of technical and practical content, real-world examples and anecdotes, and actionable takeaways. Throughout, attendees can participate in live polls and ask follow-up questions.

"The heart of FORUM is all the insightful and essential technical material, and the roster of expert presenters like David who deliver it," said Joe Tuccitto, FTA's director of education. "FORUM 2021 has an enormous amount of great content, a roster of terrific speakers, and engaging and interactive elements enabling attendees to participate."

Join David at FORUM 2021, which kicks off Tuesday, May 11. Learn more and register to attend at forum.flexography.org.
