FPA, PPC, and TLMI Join Digital Packaging Summit as Official Association Partners

PHILADELPHIA, PA – PRINTING United Alliance and Packaging Impressions are pleased to announce that Flexible Packaging Association (FPA), Paperboard Packaging Council (PPC), and TMLI have joined as official association partners of the 2022 Digital Packaging Summit. The eighth annual Digital Packaging Summit is being held Nov. 7-9, 2022, at the Ponte Vedra Inn & Club in Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida. For more information visit digitalpackagingsummit.com.

The Summit is a hosted, invitation-only conference designed for senior managers and executives in label, flexible packaging, folding carton, and corrugated printing and converting who want to understand how current and future digital printing technology and software will impact their business and investment decisions.

What Industry-Leading Sponsors Are Saying

“TMLI is thrilled to be a partner of the 2022 Digital Packaging Summit,” stated Linnea Keen, President, TMLI. “This event provides so much value to the label market and we are honored to participate once again. Digital printing is leading much of our industry’s innovation and converters are continuing to expand their digital platforms. The Digital Packaging Summit is the perfect place to bring our industry together to knowledge share and network. The intimacy of this event facilitates valuable knowledge sharing and networking. We look forward to seeing everyone.”

“Digital printing, cutting, and finishing technologies have opened up many new avenues for design and innovation in the folding carton industry,” said Ben Markens, President, Paperboard Packaging Council (PPC). “The Digital Packaging Summit is a wonderful opportunity to connect with peers while learning how digital will continue to impact our businesses in the future.”

“FPA is pleased to again partner with PRINTING United Alliance and Packaging Impressions on the Digital Packaging Summit, and I’m excited to be attending and reconnecting with the industry,” stated Gigi Deere, Director, Membership & Meetings for FPA. “The Summit is an important conference for flexible packaging printers as digital printing is the fastest growing printing segment for the industry.”

The Digital Packaging Summit provides attendees with a focused conference program that covers the key topics needed to understand their options, challenges, economics, and critical decision-making criteria, while providing valuable peer interaction and networking experiences.

“We are excited to have these leading associations join us at the summit,” stated David Pesko, Event Director and EVP at PRINTING United Alliance. “These leading associations fit perfectly with our focus on labels, folding cartons, flexible packaging, and corrugated applications. Our goals are aligned as we look to provide our attendees with a unique educational program featuring industry experts, brands, and end users, as well as access to leading suppliers.”
